525 MILES
OF THE
UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD
Running West from Omaha
ACROSS THE CONTINENT,
ARE NOW COMPLETED.

THIS BRINGS THE LINE TO THE EASTERN BASE of the Rocky Mountains and it is expected that the track will be laid thirty miles further to Evans Pass the highest point on the road by January. The maximum grade from the foot of the mountains to the summit is but eighty feet to the mile while that of many eastern roads is over one hundred. Work in the rock cuttings on the western slope will continue through the winter and there is now no reason to doubt that the entire grand line to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870.

The means provided for the construction of this Great National Work are ample. The United States grants its Six Per Cent Bonds at the rate of from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile for which it takes a second lien as security and receives payment to a large if not to the full extent of its claim in services. These bonds are issued as each twenty mile section is finished and after it has been examined by the United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first class road thoroughly supplied with depots repair shops stations and all the necessary rolling stock and other equipments.

The United States also makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile which will be a source of large revenue to the Company. Much of this land in the Platte Valley is among the most fertile in the world and other large portions are covered with heavy pine forests and abound in coal of the best quality.

The Company is also authorized to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an amount equal to the issue of the Government and no more. Hon E D Morgan and Hon Oakes Ames are Trustees for the Bondholders and deliver the bonds to the Company only as the work progresses so that they always represent an actual and productive value.

The authorized capital of the Company is One Hundred Million Dollars of which over five millions have been paid in upon the work already done.

EARNINGS OF THE COMPANY.

At present the profits of the Company are derived only from its local traffic but this is already much more than sufficient to pay the interest on all the Bonds the Company can issue if not another mile were built. It is not doubted that when the road is completed the through traffic of the only line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific States will be large beyond precedent and as there will be no competition it can always be done at profitable rates.

It will be noticed that the Union Pacific Railroad is in fact a Government Work, built under the supervision of Government officers and to a large extent with Government money and that its bonds are issued under Government direction. It is believed that no similar security is so carefully guarded and certainly no other is based upon a larger or more valuable property. As the Company's are offered for the present at 95 CENTS ON THE DOLLAR, IN U. S. CURRENCY they are the cheapest security in the market being more than 15 per cent lower than U. S. Stocks. They pay

SIX PER CENT, IN GOLD,

or over NINE PER CENT upon the investment. Subscriptions will be received in Portland by

Rights of Naturalized Citizens Abroad

From the New York Tribune

The report of the Committee on Foreign Affairs on the subject of the rights of naturalized American citizens travelling abroad has been presented to the House of Representatives. Like all our official documents it is needlessly long, and if it had been shorter it would have been a good deal stronger. The Committee show that the doctrine of perpetual allegiance upon which Great Britain insists has no other foundation than the laws of feudal tenure which are now entirely obsolete and which are in no country more absolutely rejected than in Great Britain itself. The subject in former times owned himself forever the servant of the sovereign for the land he held of him. But the idea that the King is the owner of the land is now universally discarded, the world belongs to its inhabitants not to its rulers and the obligations which sprung out of the old system of tenure are no longer in force. Every man owes certain services to his Government in return for the benefits he receives from it but those services cannot be claimed from his descendants to the second and third generations nor can he himself be absolutely debarred from renouncing both the benefits and the obligations of citizenship and transferring his allegiance to another power. His Government may forbid his going abroad in time of war it may hold him until he has discharged all the service actually due by him to the State but it cannot rightfully bind him to the fulfillment of future or conditional service. It cannot forbid his transferring his allegiance in time of peace when his own country has no need of him above all when it has tacitly consented to his emigrating or has even aided him to go abroad, it cannot afterwards claim a service which it has thus virtually renounced. The report quotes a pertinent extract from Puffendorf, which states the American view of the case as plainly as any one could wish. "Where the liberty of removal has been promiscuously allowed" says this eminent authority "and the subject settles himself and his effects under the protection of a foreign State the commonwealth which he left hath no longer any authority over him."

It has been objected that the decision of some of the United States Courts have sustained the claims of perpetual allegiance. To this the report replies that it has only been sustained in this way. Certain Judges have maintained that the common law of England as it stood at the time of the War of Independence holds good in the United States until it is changed by legislation and that this theory of indefeasible allegiance was undoubtedly a pretension of the English common law at the time of the Revolution. But this opinion is not a general one and has no force so long as it is not supported by either legislative or executive action, or by authoritative decision of the Courts.

The report admits that the injustice of the principle is more apparent than the remedy but expresses the conviction that further discussion of the question may lead to an agreement between the Governments now so much at variance. We share in this conviction and a recent communication from Historicus to the London Times indicates very clearly the readiness of the English people to revise their claims and approach the controversy in a calm and reasonable spirit. This well known writer exposes the absurdities of the British theory far more effectually than our own Foreign Committee has done it and shows how the same measure which England metes out to America she herself is in danger of receiving from France. The bill which the Committee present at the close of their report will no doubt produce a good effect, and with a little temperate diplomatic negotiation we do not despair of soon seeing the law whether national or municipal clearing itself to cite the words of Historicus from this inveterate scandal. But at any rate and at any cost the inviolability of American citizenship must be maintained. The vigorous measures authorized by the Committee's bill must be fearlessly carried out and whether Great Britain be brought to acknowledge the soundness of our theory or not it must be distinctly understood that we shall not submit to the exercise of hers.

Life and its Mysteries

Was there ever a romance in that man or that woman's life? I used to ask myself as I looked upon a hard face which stoicism seemed to have frozen over through the long years. Was there ever a moment when, for that man, or woman, love transfigured everything or the want of it threw over the earth the pall of sunset? Have they ever wept or laughed or sighed or clasped hands in passionate joy or sorrow? Had they any life? or have they simply vegetated like animals? Did they see any beauty in rock or mountain sky or river or was this green earth a browsing place, nothing more?

I never ask those questions now for I know how much fire may be hidden under a lava crusted exterior. I know that though the treasure chest may sometimes be locked when it is empty, often or beneath the fastenings lies the wealth which the right touch can at any moment set free. There are divers masks worn in this Harlequin world of ours. Years ago I met, in traveling, a lady who seemed to me the very embodiment of fun and frolic. Like the humming bird, she never was still alighting now here, now there, wheresoever were sunshine, sweetness and perfume. One day as we were rambling in the woods, we sat down to rest under a tree after our frolicking. Some little word of mine, as I drew her head into my lap and smoothed the hair on her temples, transformed her. With a sharp, quick cry of agony she threw her arms about my neck weeping as I never saw a woman weep. When she was quiet came the sad story. The trouble battled with and bravely borne. The short joyous years then the long days and nights, and weeks and months so full of desolation and bitterness and life yet at its meridian. How should she meet the long slow moving years? That was the question she asked me. "Tell me how? you who know—tell me how?"

And this was the woman I thought frivolous and pleasure seeking. Wearing beneath that robe the penitential cross reminding her at every moment with its sharp twinge of pain, that try as she might, she could never fly from herself.

How often when I have been inclined to judge harshly, have I thought of that Gethsemane cry. It is sorrowful how we misjudge each other in this busy world. How very near we may be to a warm heart and yet be frozen! How carelessly we pass by the pool of Bethesda, with its waiting crowd without thinking that we might be the angel to trouble the waters! This thought is often oppressive to me in the crowd of a city hurrying home at nightfall. What burden does this man or that woman carry known only to their Maker? How many among them may be just at the dividing line between hope and despair? And how some faces remind you of a dumb animal who bears its pain meekly and mournfully, yet cringing lest some careless foot should at any moment render it unendurable haunting you as you go to your home as if you were verily guilty in ignoring it.

Have you never felt this? and although you may have been cheated and imposed upon seventy times seven can you wholly stifle it even though you know how well the devil can wear the livery of heaven?

I think it is this that to the reflecting and observing makes soul and body wear out so quickly in the city. These constantly recurring unsolvable problems which cloud faith and make life terrible instead of peaceful and sweet which lead us sometimes to look upon [illegible] stray away from [illegible] Fanny Fern

Maryland Politics

A letter from Washington to the Olympia Tribune gives the following

The new Governor Oden Bowie recently inaugurated as the successor of Thomas Swann bids fair to eclipse his illustrious predecessor in the Executive administration of the State Government so far as rebel rule and preferment are concerned.

The State of Maryland is now completely under the control and arbitrary sway of white washed rebels and secession sympathizers. The inaugural address of the Governor elect breathes forth the very spirit of antagonism to Constitutional authority and is couched in such language that a wayfaring man, though a fool, could not err in arriving at a true interpretation of the policy which Governor Bowie purposes carrying out.

He commences his address by assailing the policy of Congress in its plan of reconstruction and condemns that body in unmeasured terms. Following in the wake of Swann and in harmony with the wishes of those by whom he was elected to office Bowie will proscribe all Unionists from official favors and political preferment, and none but those who openly or secretly opposed the National Government in crushing treason and suppressing the rebellion will be permitted to hold office. The more rank the traitor the greater the reward.

In the city of Baltimore the five office holders who were known to be in sympathy with the Union Republican party have been removed and avowed secessionists or those who bore arms in defense of "Southern Rights" put in their places.

Loyalists are every where throughout the State spurned with contempt and shunned by the chivalry.

An applicant for a municipal appointment in Baltimore when reciting the grounds for success therein was told that he lacked one qualification viz: he had not been in the rebel army. "The devil I haven't" he replied with emphasis "here is my commission as Colonel," and he at once drew forth that necessary recommendation from his pocket.

It is needless to add the Colonel received the appointment he sought.

The Maryland Legislature after filibustering for a week on Friday last elected Hon W F Hamilton of Allegheny county Senator to Congress as the successor of Hon Reverdy Johnson by a vote of 60 against 46 for Swann.

Poor Swann having dug his own political grave his partisan friends have buried him beyond the hope of resurrection. The Washington Chronicle in commenting upon the withering effects which said defeat will have upon the aspirations of the political trickster who has been cast off by a party now dominant and powerful through Swann's perfidy and base political apostasy thus discourses in relation thereto

"Thomas Swann yesterday received his political quietus at the hands of a Democratic Legislature called into being by his own treachery and has possibly realized by this time that rebel gratitude is a lively sense of favors yet to come instead of a recognition of services past and gone. We have no tears to shed over his humiliation and disgrace. He went into the depths of political degradation to advance his own personal ambition and with the most remarkable hand of cards ever held by a State Executive, has failed in his last desperate play through the self respect of a body that does not stoop to his level. Formerly a Know Nothing Mayor of Baltimore, who patronized protected bands of political ruffians under such choice names as Plug Uglies, Blood Tubs, Red Necks Rough Skins Tigers and Killers he wielded his power like an outlaw, and disfranchised the entire Democratic party by force from 1856 to 1860. He persecuted the Germans and Irish with unrelenting hatred and developed an intense bitterness against the Catholics. No crime known in the annals of lawlessness remained unperpetrated by his minions while chief magistrate of Baltimore only a few years ago. Not the least of the atrocities of that period was the forcible ejection of colored caulkers from the ship yards of Federal Hill by white rowdies under the protection of his police. This negro hatred has never left him. Unwilling to allow the colored men of Maryland to enter the lists of competition with him under the protection of equal laws and equal rights he has used every legitimate and illegitimate means placed at his disposal by the office of Governor to keep the African in bondage. He has appealed to the lowest prejudices and lowest passions and has abandoned all of his anti foreign and anti Catholic antecedents to attend German Schutzenfests and Irish gatherings and Democratic meetings, and proclaim himself a simon pure, dyed in the wool Democrat. All for what? The United States Senatorship. To attain this long sought distinction he sold out the Union men of the State to the traitors of the State, defeated John L. Thomas, Jr and J J Stewart for Congress in Baltimore city by throwing open the registry to rebels had the Eastern Shore law repealed and re-enacted, organized a State militia system, identified himself with men whom he had always opposed politically and most of whom had been active supporters of rebellion and gave them grand entertainments.

They have paid him off in his own current coin. They have taken all they could get—squeezed the orange dry and thrown the rind away."

On Snow, Rain and Hail in their Relation to the Atmosphere

[From the Scientific American.]

The condensed moisture of the air is never pure water (H_2O) alone, as is generally supposed. It even presents in its composition the same if not a greater variety than the springs flowing from the interior of the earth. This is easily understood when we consider that the elastic fluid which envelops the earth is an aerial ocean, is not simply a mixture of nitrogen and oxygen and a small amount of carbonic acid, but also contains though in smaller quantities a great many other substances which are readily absorbed by the descending precipitates and as the atmosphere itself is modified in its condition according to adjacent circumstances so also the condensed moisture which we perceive in the form of snow rain or hail. Though the amount of foreign substances in the air may often be infinitesimal they are not always to be considered as altogether insignificant.

Nitrogen and oxygen are not met with in the same proportions in the many forms which moisture assumes, there being about one fifth less of the former, one third more of the latter, with still a greater proportion of carbonic acid contained in them as contrasted with dry atmospheric air.

The combustion of fuel and the continual eremacausis (slow decay) of organic matter occurring on the surface of the globe is the origin of the presence of ammonia in atmospheric moisture. It is met with in both the free and combined state in the latter with nitric or carbonic acid. Nitric acid is known to be formed by electrical discharges the nitrogen of the air combining directly with the oxygen. Nitrate of ammonia is therefore to be met with in rain during and after thunder showers. Boussingault even claims to have found it always in the rain though in very minute quantities. Its amount is, however almost always not observable a very great time after the storm has ceased but the converse has been found to be true of a fine shower.

In snow and hail more ammonia is present than in rain probably owing to the greater cold in which they are formed, ammonia being more readily absorbed by cold than by heat. Rain falling after a dry season abounds with ammonia often containing six milligrams to the liter (1 milligram—0.0154 grains; 1 liter—1.0567 wine measure) this not being the case with the rain of a rainy period. Nitric acid is as we have mentioned already found in combination with ammonia but only in a free state during heavy thunder storms when the rain will sometimes redden blue litmus paper. The average quantity of nitric acid in rain water is stated to be one millionth part of its entire bulk. Snow has been found to contain more nitric acid than rain and hail more than snow.

Traces of sulphuric acid have been discovered in the rain [illegible] by [illegible] Mr [illegible] and Dr Angus Smith accounting for its presence which doubtless finds its explanation in the sulphurous vapors produced by the combustion of coal with the rapid [illegible] of buildings in [illegible] London. Though London is the great city in the world Manchester is the largest manufacturing district, comprehending many hundred square miles, hence, we must not be surprised to find the producer of combustion existing in a larger proportion in the latter than in the former city.

The atmospheric air is also most generally impregnated with the saline products arising from sea water. Near the coast salt is found to be present in rain water to the amount of six parts to the million but less than one half that proportion some hundred miles in the interior. The French chemist Barral, calculates that near Paris 40 pounds of salt are yearly descending in the rain on one hectare of land, (1 hectare, 1,471 acres) and according to Chatin the rain water in Paris during the prevalence of westerly gales is even more impregnated with salt than is the water of the Seine. Snow and hail always contain less salt as they are formed in more elevated regions.

Chatin also holds that iodine is present in all atmospheric precipitates, which assertion, however is contradicted by most investigators, they attributing its supposed presence to the [illegible] re-agents employed in its detection.

Sulphuric hydrogen has been observed in the atmospheric precipitates of some parts of the western coast of Africa, where the rivers which empty into the sea abound in decaying organic matter and phosphoric acid has been found by Wiegmann in noxious fogs and mists.

Organic substances of an unknown [illegible] are often found in atmospheric precipitates, but Boussingault claims to have discovered marsh gas in the rain of miasmatic sections to the amount of 0.6617 per cent and Ehrenberg [illegible] that the inky rain falling on the 14th of April, 1849, in Ireland over an area of 700 English miles, as putrescent vegetable organism, probably brought there by passing winds.

Non volatile substances, as meteoric, [illegible] and ordinary dust have often been found in rain, snow and hail, but they are not of general occurrence. "Photo chemical analysis," that [illegible] and wonderful discovery, will surely [illegible] to us many other natural wonders occurring in atmospheric air.

J. S. Smith on History and the Negro

J. S. Smith, Esq., has considerable reputation as a Democratic speaker. He is noted for the adroitness which distinguished the old Greek sophists, who boasted of their ability "to make the worse appear the better reason." His speech here on Tuesday evening was in his usual vein, and we noticed that he brought forward the same charges against the Republican or Union party which he urged in 1864, when he advocated the election of McClellan. He told his audience that the Republican party caused the war; that it was sectional and traitorous; that when it came into power it found the country united, happy and prosperous at home, and respected and feared abroad. A man of Mr. Smith's standing would not make assertions so wide of the truth, on any other subject than that of politics. There was no man in his audience who did not know that when the Republican party came into power it found the nation "discovered, discordant, belligerent, a land rent with feuds," and preparing inevitably for the shedding of fraternal blood. That the Republican party found the country disarmed and at the mercy of the Southern conspirators who had long been plotting its disruption, its navy scattered to the remotest quarters of the globe, its army betrayed through the treason of its leaders into the hands of the rebels, its arsenals plundered and their stores of arms sent to the South, its forts seized and held by hostile forces, and the agents of the rebellion swarming in every department of the public service, ready to still further cripple the country and advance the cause of those who had attempted to divide and destroy it. This is the state of things which the Republican party found when it came into power, and into this ruinous condition had the country been plunged by the administration of a Democratic President. The latter part of Buchanan's term was devoted wholly to this work of national disintegration. Nearly every member of his Cabinet, including the Vice President, was deep in the conspiracy, and no measures were taken to check the impending ruin. When the so-called glories of Democratic rule are spoken of, let these acts of the last Democratic Administration be remembered as proof of what some of those glories are. And when any demagogue declares in the interest of the seven times condemned Democratic party, that the Republicans brought the country into the difficulties it has been compelled to struggle with, let it be remembered that that person, as one of the really guilty, is interested in perverting history so as to cover his own sins with oblivion.

As a Democratic speech would be incomplete without an attempt to pander to the prejudices of a certain class in regard to the black race, Mr. Smith naturally came down very heavily on the "nigger" in the course of his remarks. He had been at Richmond, and had been appalled by the sight of a political assemblage, in which quite a large number of negroes appeared and participated. Terrible sight to great Democratic eyes! "Niggers" taking part in a political meeting in the city that was the Capital of the "white man's government" of President Davis, which was founded on human slavery as its corner stone! Can it be wondered that Mr. Smith, as an orthodox Democrat was unspeakably indignant at the spectacle. No doubt after a little time had passed and he had recovered something of his calmness, he piously closed his eyes, ejaculated in a fervent manner, "Cursed be Canaan!" and mourned in his secret soul that the pious traffic in the flesh and blood and souls of men was ended in Virginia; that the system of prostitution and concubinage which had turned half the black race of the Old Dominion into a variety of hues between black and white, was abolished; that instead of the negro pen and slave coffle and auction block and other like evidences of the "higher civilization," he saw in Richmond an assemblage in which colored men appeared as freemen, the equals in the sight of the law of those who once held them in absolute servitude. And when he went on the plantations he did not see the blood hounds and driver's whip, but he saw the negro his own master, and, sad to tell, entitled to the fruits of his own labor. Can there be any wonder that he had a terrible picture to present to his Democratic friends in Oregon? Such is "Radicalism," and such are its fruits. Shocked and outraged, Mr. Smith has hastened home to tell the story, and to appeal to his friends to know if they intend to allow such things to go on forever.

It is particularly noticeable that the impeachment of Andrew Johnson by the House and the probability of his speedy removal from office, have not had the smallest perceptible effect upon the price of gold. While blatant politicians are endeavoring to persuade those who will listen to them that the country is on the verge of a terrible revolution in consequence of impeachment, the money market, which, in cases of threatened commotion, always gives the first and surest indications of the impending danger, is not at all affected by the proceedings against the President. Why should it be? Or what reason is there to fear any civil commotion? If Johnson is removed from office, the decision against him will end the matter. Instead of creating a feeling of insecurity, the exercise of this constitutional power will be another proof of the stability and permanence of our institutions. Those who are ranting about revolution would do well to examine the reports of the money market, where they will find an answer to their senseless fustian.

J. C. Franklin writes from Meadowville, Umatilla county, that "the winter there has been severe, but not so much so as that of 1861-2. Very little stock has perished. Spring is now open, and from present appearances cultivation of the soil will soon commence. I cultivated a very few acres of sage brush land last year, and to my great surprise it yielded 63 bushels and [illegible] to the acre. I am informed by those who are conversant with the fact that [illegible] of the same kind of land [illegible] the [illegible] here to Salt Lake. Many have supposed this [illegible] to be worthless but my success has [illegible] eyes."

W. A. McPherson, Esq., is now at work on the editorial columns of the Unionist. We welcome his return to the active labors of journalism.

GOOD JOKE.—A short time ago a correspondent of the Walla Walla Statesman, in describing a dancing party held at Wallula, made use of some verses in the sketch. As printed, one verse ran thus:

Midst the splendors of a ball room,
We're accustomed to behold
Calves varied as the rainbow,
Yet we'd but one all told.

It seems that the "poet" wrote it colors; it was the printer who put it calves! Of course there was big indignation among the party folks, but an erratum in the next issue by the editor, upon the hint of the misinterpreted, unhappy and [illegible] things [illegible] the calves didn't vary as the rainbow, we take it for granted, but some other way.

We learn by letter from Hillsboro that Washington county will considerably increase its Union majority in June. Clubs are formed throughout the county and the vote has already been rigidly canvassed. Our correspondent writes: "The Union men are waking up as I never saw them before, while the Democrats have little to say, and think organizing Clubs all wrong—calculated to engender bitter feelings and all that sort of thing." A large and enthusiastic Union meeting was held at Hillsboro last Saturday, which was addressed by Col. Cornelius, Col. Meek, G. G. Long and others.

President Johnson is figuring to get the South to endorse his claims for the next Presidency. He will not get the Democracy of the North to support him.—Idaho World.

Black ingratitude! The Democratic party owes its present vitality wholly to President Johnson. The issue of the war would have settled the business with it forever, had it not been for Johnson's treachery to the party which trusted him. And now he is plumply told that "he will not get the Democracy of the North to support him." Ingratitude! thy name is Democracy.

The resolutions adopted in Congress on the 3d inst. by thirty four majority, declaring that it is not expedient to grant any further railroad subsidies, is a heavy, and perhaps a finishing blow, for the present, to the Northern Pacific at the various branch railroads which have been projected, and for which Government aid has been sought. We anticipated this result, knowing that, owing to the present state of the national finances, there was a strong opposition in many parts of the country to any further grants of the kind.

The Commencement Exercises in the Medical Department of the Willamette University took place on Tuesday evening. The address on the occasion was delivered by Judge Boise. The charge to the class was delivered by Dr. Wythe. At the conclusion of the regular exercises two happy couples, Mr. A. G. Helm and Miss Josephine Payton, and Mr. David Cole and Miss Amanda L. Boon, were united in marriage.

The "Democracy" of Salem have "pledged" A. Johnson their support. This action was taken in view of his probable removal from office by the Senate. A local paper learns that a body of these "supporters" will soon start overland to help "Moses" out of his troubles. They will set out on foot, but expect to "find" horses enough before reaching the Cascades.

The Umatilla paper says: "A couple of enterprising miners are engaged in surveying out a line for a ditch to carry water from the falls of the Umatilla to a flat about two miles below town. Excellent gold prospects have been found there, and by bringing in water as proposed, will no doubt yield good wages."

George R. Helm, of Linn county, lately said in a speech at Brownsville: "Probably it is beyond our power to reinstate slavery in the Southern States. It is perhaps dead." Regretful words! Of course the speaker and his party would reinstate it if they could.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says:—"One of our most valuable Democratic exchanges, the Lafayette Courier, comes to us this week almost unintelligible. From what we can make out, we infer that it has hoisted the name of Fred Douglas for President."

It is said that Gibson, the absconding and defaulting Secretary of Idaho Territory has been seen and recognized at Paris. The American Consul was applied to for process to arrest him, but he fled before a writ could be obtained and served.

Says the Roseburg Ensign: The Lafayette Courier undertakes to evoke the spirit of the "State Press." The only way that paper need hope to strike the popular vein is to bore for it.

A Eugene paper says that the late freeze did a great deal of injury to fruit trees and shrubbery in that vicinity.

The Daily Unionist made its first appearance on Tuesday. It is a good paper and deserves success.

Two more convicts for the Penitentiary arrived at Salem this week from Jackson county.

The Douglas County Union Convention will be held on the 7th inst.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—The Bulletin makes the following statement in regard to railroad matters:

1. The Central Pacific Railroad has bought the San Jose railroad, the contract having been made some days ago, the actual possession and change of the business administration to take place about two years from this time. Meantime the San Jose Railroad is to build the road to Gilroy.

2. The Central Pacific has bought the Southern Pacific Railroad, its franchise and all that pertains to it as a road, the visible transfer and possession to take place contemporaneously with the San Jose road.

3. The Central Pacific now owns or controls all the railroad routes which have been projected between San Francisco and any part of the interior, including the Western Pacific Railroad and the control of the Vallejo and Sacramento Railroad.

4. The conflicting statements about the terminus of the Pacific Railroad, are reconsidered as follows: One terminus has already been agreed upon at Oakland and the agreement reduced to writing between the Railroad Company, the city authorities, carpenters and others. This arrangement includes a transfer of land to the company for depot and other purposes. The same company has agreed substantially to make another terminus in the city of San Francisco, and negotiations have been going on for some time concerning a transfer of lands and water front for this object.

The brig Hugh Barclay, reported ashore on the north spit of Umpqua river, is a complete wreck. She was worth about $14,000.

Peter Mower, whose eye sight was destroyed with vitrol by E. A. Manning, appeals to the public for charity. He is utterly destitute and has a family in the Atlantic States.

The steamer Great Republic will wait until tomorrow for the arrival of the Panama steamer.

It is proposed to ask the Legislature to do something in relation to the Chinese question.

It is reported that the prosecutions in the Chandler-Harris prize fight are to be compromised.

The Mechanics' State Council met last night. Provisions are being made to have an eight hour bill to work between the hours of 8 and 12, and 1 and 5 o'clock.

DATES TO MARCH 5.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, March 5.—A bill authorizing the Secretary of War to employ counsel for the defense of the generals of the army and any other officers [illegible] with the enforcement of the reconstruction acts, has become a law without the President's approval.

The House considered Jencks' additional impeachment article.

Speaking is progressing to-day in support of the authority of Congress and the constitutionality of the reconstruction acts.

Trumbull followed on the same side, denying that the [illegible] had joined [illegible] the McArdle case.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—In the Senate the Chair submitted a communication from Chief Justice Chase relative to the rule adopted by the Senate, expressing his dissent from the view taken by the Senate that the managers [illegible] be received [illegible] any order [illegible] exception [illegible] time [illegible] willing, if necessary, to attach to them [illegible] decisions. It was referred to the Committee of Seven.

In the Senate the Chair submitted a communication from Chief Justice Chase, giving his views in regard to the manner in which the impeachment trial should proceed. He said he thought it most unquestionable that the Senate should sit as a Court of Impeachment. He thought the Court should be organized before the House presented articles of impeachment, and that the Court and not the Senate should fix its own rules for governing the trial and should issue its summons and processes. He quoted from the Federalist to show why the Constitution made the Chief Justice the presiding officer of the Court, and thought that immediately after notice from the House that articles would be presented, the Senate should have organized itself into a Court and taken all necessary steps for proceeding with the trial. He had been informed that the Senate acted upon other principles. As this case might be taken as a precedent, he thought it his duty to give of his own views on the subject.

The bill for the extension of the Capital grounds was amended and passed.

At five minutes past one o'clock the managers on the part of the House, appeared, followed by the members of the House—the latter ranging themselves inside the bar of the Senate. The Speaker of the House was invited to a seat beside the President pro tem, and escorted to his seat by Senator Grimes. Silence having been restored the Chairman of the Committee, Bingham, said:

Mr. President, the Managers on the part of the House of Representatives, by order of the House, are ready at the bar of the Senate to present articles of impeachment preferred against Andrew Johnson, President of the United States.

The President pro tem said: The Sergeant at Arms will make proclamation.

Sergeant at Arms—Hear ye! Hear ye! All persons are ordered to keep silence on pain of imprisonment while the House of Representatives exhibits to the Senate articles of impeachment against Andrew Johnson, President of the United States.

Bingham then read the articles of impeachment and the Managers and other members of the House retired.

Anthony offered an order that during the pending trial no person shall be admitted to the galleries except on tickets issued daily by the Sergeant at Arms. These are not to exceed in any case the number that can be accommodated with seats, leaving the passage entirely free. Tickets shall be issued to all foreign legations, each Senator to be entitled to four tickets each and each member of the House two; the Chief Justice and each Judge of the Supreme Court two.

The House proceeded to consider the additional article of impeachment offered yesterday by Jencks, charging the President with unlawful intent and design to exercise and control the command of the Army of the United States without being bound by the laws and establishing rules for its government and regulations for the land and naval forces.

Lawrence desired to offer a resolution directing the managers of the impeachment to present the first four articles agreed upon by the House and proceed to ask judgment of the Senate thereon, and if they find it necessary afterwards to present the remaining articles. Bingham refused to receive it.

Jencks' additional article was referred to the managers of impeachment. The House then resolved itself into Committee of the Whole and proceeded to the Senate Chamber to present the articles of impeachment. Upon their return the chairman of the committee reported that the House had presented the articles and had been informed by the presiding officer that the Senate would take action thereon.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of other business of an unimportant nature. The case of R. R. Butler, member elect from Tenn., came up on the report from the Committee on Elections, omitting the usual test oath on this occasion. After considerable debate and the offer of several amendments, the matter was allowed to go over for the present.

Driggs offered a resolution directing the Committee of Ways and Means to inquire into the propriety of amending the tariff law so as to impose a duty on imported copper. Adopted.

Wade offered a resolution looking to the better protection of soldiers and sailors from impositions by claim agents. Adopted. The House then adjourned.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Among the confirmations to-day was Alexander Hillard of California, as Consul to Guaymas. The Senate rejected Warren Rose as Receiver at Sacramento.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has decided to take no action at present on the nominations of Gen. McClellan and J. Ross Browne.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Col. Sickles, of the 5th Infantry, has been ordered to report without delay to Major General Hancock, and take command of the Twentieth U. S. Infantry.

The Times' Washington special says that personal feeling is developing into a proposition to elect a new President of the Senate, in order that the successful issue of the impeachment trial would not result in the elevation of Wade to the Presidency.

Railroad Accident.

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., March 4.—When near Hopewell station, yesterday, a baggage car of the train from Elmira, jumped from the track and overturned all the passengers into one end of the car, inflicting serious injuries on twelve persons. The car was stove in and broken, and with a mass of living coals of fire thrown with great force upon the already suffering passengers burning several in a most shocking manner.

Resolutions of the Ohio Republican Convention.

COLUMBUS, March 4.—The Republican State Convention nominated delegates to the National Convention and candidates for Presidential electors. They also nominated William White for Judge of the Supreme Court and Isaac R. Sherwood for Secretary of State; also candidates for the Board of Public Works. The Resolutions declare that the Republican party can alone properly finish the work of reconstruction; also in favor of Grant for President and B. F. Wade for Vice President. They approve the action of the House in presenting articles of impeachment, and express confidence in the judgment of the Senate, condemn the action of Democrats in the Legislature in rescinding the ratification of constitutional amendments, and demand retrenchment in Government expenses and a thorough provision for a system of taxation so as to equalize this burden in favor of paying the debt in the currency of the country and oppose the contraction of the currency, and approve the action of Edwin M. Stanton.

The Maryland Senatorship

ANNAPOLIS, March 4.—The ballot for Senator in place of Phillip F. Thomas, stood: Geo. Vickers 10, James T. Early, 27, P. F. Thomas, 25, John Wetherd 16, Sam Hambleton, 8, Hiram McCulloch, 11, scattering, 3. The joint convention adjourned till to-morrow.

Cattle Disease in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, March 4.—The pleuro pneumonia is committing great havoc among the cattle in this vicinity.

Mexico.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Mexican advices via Havana state that troops have been sent from San Luis Potosi and Guadalajara to support General Corona in suppressing the civil war in the States of Jalisco and Sinaloa. The Government contemplates offering General Ortega his freedom and the Vice Presidency of the Republic. The proposition to exclude ex imperialists from office, has been withdrawn.

The American Legion of Honor is very much dissatisfied with their treatment. They have been forced to leave the country, after having been defrauded of their rights.

Advices from Lissal say the towns of Tejal, Liscomie, Tekal, Raddnee, Axkulzab, Concavauh, Llums, Kikikel and Lucoba have adhered to the national cause. Their town councils had reassembled in peace.

Gen. Cepeda attacked Gamael, and pursued the rebels towards Valladolid, near which place he was defeated by Ciuton and Navawete, aided by some imperialists. Cepeda was routed after a severe loss.

HAVANA, March 3d.—The Herald's special says a circle of imperialists here are plotting to set up a regency in Mexico under Santa Anna in favor of young Iturbide, the prince, as Emperor. They are taking advantage of the antipathy to the United States to obtain the aid of volunteers. Telegraphic orders have been received here to reform the fortifications of the island.

West Indies

HAVANA, March 3.—Dates from St. Kitts are to Feb. 1st. Three shocks of earthquake had been felt there.

Barbica dates are to Feb. 9th. They state that cholera was prevalent, water scarce and the difficulties between the planters and laborers continued.

St. Domingo advices of Feb. 10th, state that General Baez had not yet arrived, but it is announced that he is strenuously opposed to the alienation of the island of Samana, desiring to make it a neutral free port under the protection of the great maratime powers.

Trinidad advices are to the 8th Feb. They state that a survey of the coast is being made. Antigua dates are to the 13th. They state that sugar crushing had commenced and that several shocks of earthquakes had occurred.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

LIMERICK, March 3.—An attempt was made last night, it is said, by the Fenians to set fire to a large machine shop. It was defeated by the exertions of the police. The incendiaries used Greek Fire.

PARIS, March 3.—The visit of Prince Napoleon to Germany has no connection with political affairs.

ROME, March 3.—Cardinal Antonelli is confined to his palace by serious illness.

FLORENCE, March 3.—Admiral Farragut arrived at Spezzia and received a visit from the Italian Minister of Marine.

LONDON, March 3.—The popular dissatisfaction in Portugal has not subsided. Dispatches from Lisbon say an effigy of the Queen was burned last night by an excited mob.

The present condition of Ireland and the question of Irish reform will be considered in the House of Commons.

The Unionist of Tuesday says: "The Salem Democracy had a very sorrowful time last night, to condole with Andrew Johnson. Brother Grover preached a very affecting sermon, and many of the Species shed tears profusely."

Rather Rough Challenge. The BILLIARD TABLE, a monthly New York paper of that name published in the interest of Kavanagh & Decker, Billiard Manufacturers of New York, has the following challenge in its November number which we consider worthy to call the attention of our Billiard Manufacturers of this State:

CHALLENGE.—We will place $1000 in the hands of any responsible party, whenever any manufacturer or manufacturers of Billiard Tables in the world shall signify a willingness to test the merits of his or their cushion with ours, to abide by the decision. The cushions to be submitted to the examination of a committee of impartial and scientific men, who shall have power to investigate their merits thoroughly by a trial trip with balls and cue [illegible].

"This we do not offer for the purpose of winning money, but solely to afford conclusive proof that the cat gut cushion is superior to all others and we should prefer that the money staked should go to some charitable object.

"We invite the especial attention of Messrs. Phelan & Collender to this challenge. fed27d2p6t

A VALUABLE INVENTION.—Mr. Joseph Buchtel, Photographist, etc., of this city, has recently invented an article which will probably come into general use in the printing of pictures from the negatives There has always been a complaint among photographists, that no perfect arrangement was known, by which an accurate, clear and sharp impression could always be taken. The trouble has always been that no contact pad has been invented which would hold the sensitive silver paper on which the pictures are printed, in perfect, air tight contact with the negative glass. Every one has noticed that nearly every picture, even among the best, is blurred or indistinct in some of the minute lines This is because the silver paper was not closely pressed in those parts upon the glass plate. The pad generally used is of felt, the finest of which has small pits and inequalities in its surface. Wherever there is a pit there will be a defect in the picture If there are one hundred of these little pits in a square inch there will be one hundred places in the picture where the minute lines are not brought out, and hence a blurred appearance The platen board over the pad is perfectly straight, now if the negative glass on which the pressure is brought, be warped, it is plain that some places will be pressed hard, while others will not be pressed at all or only lightly. Then the picture will come out sharp and clear in the hard pressed places and blurred in the others Such pictures are valueless and hence there must be great waste of silver paper, as well as of the time of the operator Mr. Buchtel's invention is designed to take the place of the felt pad in common use It consists of an elastic bag, made of very fine, soft and pliable India rubber, air-tight, in two compartments, which lap each other by means of an ingeniously arranged suture This bag may be filled with air, gas or any fluid It will be used in the same manner as the old pad The negative will be laid in the printing frames, the silver or sensitive paper laid on the negative, next the pad and then the pressing board or platen. Every photographer will see at once that the elasticity of the bag will accommodate its surface to that of the negative glass. That is to say, if the glass is convex, the air or fluid in the bag will flow, under the pressure of the platen to those places which are low, and the surface of the bag will become an exact impression or counterpart of the glass surface. No part of the negative's surface, no matter how uneven it may be, can escape the pressure and the pressure will be exactly equal everywhere There will be no vacuums between the pad and silver paper, nor between the latter and the negative glass, hence there will be no discoloration of the silver paper which always occurs from exposure to air These are not all the advantages which are secured by Mr. B.'s invention, but they are sufficient to recommend it to universal use, the cost being inconsiderable. He has taken all the proper steps, some time since, to secure a patent. Since the art of photography has been known, hundreds of attempts have been made to find a contact pad which would secure the results which Mr. Buchtel claims will invariably follow the use of his invention—but heretofore without success. It is simple in its principles of operation, and the only wonder is that it had not been thought of long since.

A SENSIBLE THING.—Mr. Besser introduced into the Council Wednesday evening an ordinance providing that persons committed to the City Jail for offences against the laws, may be required to labor upon the streets or public squares, and the ordinance was passed, under a suspension of the rules. This is a move in the right direction There is no sense in feeding great lazy huskys to lie in jail, with warm blankets and all that, when in about half the cases, the offenders have sought the jail, through the police court, as the cheapest and best boarding house they could get into The following is a copy of the ordinance:

The City of Portland does ordain as follows:

SEC. 1. That any person or persons sentenced to imprisonment for the violation of any ordinance of this city, shall, during the term of such imprisonment, be liable and subject to do and perform work upon the streets or public squares of this city.

SEC. 2. The Street Commissioner shall, whenever he shall be able to employ persons sentenced to imprisonment as mentioned in Section one, make requisition upon the Marshal and the Marshal shall furnish as many such laborers as in the judgment of the Street Commissioner may be so employed or as many as may be at the command of the said Marshal.

There is something of detail wanted in the above, but the main proposition is a decidedly good one If enforced, there will be fewer cases of offending against city ordinance, and, of course, a corresponding decrease of expense.

ICE IN THE COLUMBIA.—Mr. Holland, express messenger for Wells, Fargo & Co., informs us that navigation is not yet open to Umatilla. The ice is probably gorged at Wallula. The Umatilla Press of the 29th ult., says: On Wednesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, our citizens were somewhat astonished and overjoyed to notice the ice in the river begin to move en masse. Although we had somewhat of a thaw for a few days previous, no one expected to see the ice cleaned out so thoroughly and so suddenly. In fact parties had been crossing and recrossing [illegible] the day, and Mr. Clifford and others, who live opposite town, had started on their return home when the movement began. They, however, returned to terra firma and no accident has, we believe, occurred. The [illegible] leading to the wharf boat of the O. S. N. Co. was carried away, which will be the heaviest loss sustained. During Thursday night the ice must have got jammed somewhere below, as the river rose about 15 feet, the water rising within a few inches of the Orleans Hotel. This did not last long, however, as the water fell rapidly on Friday morning. Considerable ice is floating past town to-day, though it is getting less and less every hour.

THE RAILROAD SURVEY BEGUN.—Mr. T. R. Brooks Chief Engineer of the Oregon Central Railroad, and his assistants, began the work yesterday morning of making preliminary surveys The first stake was driven on the bank of the river, near the Home yard, and in a line produced by Third street, and then the engineers proceeded up Third to the centre of Main, taking distance and accurately etc. From Third street they proceeded down Main to the river and by observation fixed a point on the East bank in line with the centre of Main street. The river at this place was found by triangulation to be 1,884 feet wide. A partial examination of the river bottom, shows that it is of clay and gravel composition, both sides being favorable for bridge foundations The surveying party will next start from the East bank opposite Main street, and proceed with an examination of the country toward Oregon City. Nothing, of course has been yet determined as to where the depot will be located, or where the river will be crossed. A dozen or more plans may be examined and then the most practicable, all things considered, will of course be adopted.

MAIL BETWEEN PORTLAND AND OLYMPIA.—For a short time there has been a failure of the mail from Olympia to properly connect with the route from Monticello to Portland, in consequence of which there has been considerable dissatisfaction. We are, however, happy to state that the difficulty has been properly adjusted. Yesterday the Postal Agent arranged with the contractors a schedule of departures and arrivals which, besides being satisfactory to them, secures close connection of the mails at Monticello, and thus affords to the public the desired celerity of communication. The mails will hereafter leave Olympia on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4 A. M., arrive at Monticello next days by 10 A. M., and leaving immediately on the steamboats (on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday) arrive at Portland on the same days by 5 P. M. Charles Granger, Esq., of Olympia, the contractor on the Monticello and Olympia route, who has been spending several days in the city, made us the visit for the purpose of attending to this matter.

THE STORY OF A "HIGHWAY ROBBERY."—A Chinaman created something of a sensation yesterday by telling the story that he was met the evening before by three men who attacked him, went through his pockets for money, and finding none, fell to work and gave him a severe beating and kicking. The truth of the transaction as related by an eye witness is simply this: The Chinaman was going up Front street when he met three men who were going down, just in front of Bolter's Broom Factory. As the Chinaman passed between two of the men, one of them gave him a push, nearly throwing him down, whereat the chivalrous blood of the Celestial got hot, and he seized a stone and was about to throw it at his assailant. The latter seeing what the Chinaman's intentions were walked up to him and knocked him down, and then the three men walked on down the street. And this was all there was of the "highway robbery."

RAILROAD AID.—We learn from a gentleman who came in from Washington county yesterday, that the petition to the County Commissioners, in favor of an undertaking by the county to guarantee the interest on $50,000 of the bonds of the Oregon Central Railroad Company (west side) has received the signatures of a majority of the voters of the county. A special meeting of the County Commissioners was held on Wednesday to consider the matter. Our informant did not learn the result of their deliberations, but no doubt was entertained of their favorable action upon the petition.

BUCHU.

(From Dispensatory of the United States)

DIOSMA CRENATA - - - - - - BUCHU LEAVES.

Properties.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, their tastes bitterish and analogous to mint.

Medical Properties and Uses.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulant, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs.

They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs—such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Bladder and Urethra, Disease of the Prostrate and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is used by persons from the ages of 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life, after Confinement or Labor Pains, Bed-wetting in children

In Affections Peculiar to Females, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy, as in CHLOROSIS OR RETENTION, IRREGULARITY, PAINFULNESS OR SUPPRESSION OF CUSTOMARY EVACUATIONS, ULCERATED OR SCHIRRHOUS STATE OF THE UTERUS, LEUCORRHEA OR WHITES.

Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, Gravel and Dropsical Swellings.—This medicine increases the power of Digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy action, by which the Watery or Calcareous depositions, and all Unnatural Enlargements are reduced, as well as Pain and Inflammation.

Helmbold's Extract Buchu has cured every case of DIABETES in which it has been given, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine, Diseases of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel, Brick Dust Deposit, and Mucus or Milky Discharges, and for Enfeebled or Delicate Constitutions, of both Sexes, attended with the following symptoms:—Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, &c.

The Pain Killer Abroad.

The following correspondence will show something of the estimation in which Perry Davis' Pain Killer is held on the shores of the Mediterranean It is not surprising that a medicine that receives such testimonials as this from abroad, should find well sustained and increasing appreciation at home

U. S CONSULATE Tunis, Dec 27, 1865.

To the Proprietors of Davis' Pain Killer, Providence, R. I.—Gentlemen:—The enclosed has just been received from my friend Tulin, late Consul General of Norway and Sweden and of Prussia in this place No comment is needed Truly yours, AMOS PERRY

GENOA, December 16, 1865

Dear Sir —Accept thanks for this third supply of Davis "Pain Killer." This medicine has often relieved me of serious indisposition and I would not on any account consent to be without it both for myself and my family.

I have recommended it to my late colleagues and friends in Tunis and Genoa, and at my request one of the largest druggists in this city has sent an order to New York to meet the demand in this place.

Yours truly G. A TULIN,
Ex Consul General of Sweden, Norway & Prussia in Tunis.

"We recommend the CASH plan as the best mode of Insurance. None will deny this after a few years' experience of the different plans."—The Charter Oak Life Insurance Co (a Note Company.)

EXPERIENCE has taught business men that CREDITS must be paid for!

IN CASH COMPANIES The first payment is the largest, every successive year reduces the premium or increases the policy at the option of the insured Past records of the Mutual prove that in 15 years their payments cease, but DIVIDENDS continue for life

IN NOTE COMPANIES The first payment is the smallest—interest on Notes swallow Dividends and increase the future payments.

OBSERVE.—Notes must be paid for by higher rates and increased insurance.

DIVIDENDS.—The Mutual declares Dividends the first and every successive year from the date of a policy holders insurance N. B. The public should ascertain from other Insurance Companies if Dividends are declared annually from the start—or annually 4 YEARS AFTER insurance

RATES in The Mutual are lower than in any other Company doing business on the Pacific Coast and are considerably lower than in any Note Company

EVERY ADVANTAGE is offered by The Mutual (excepting notes)—that other Insurance Companies can offer

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers;
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility Nervousness, Depression of Spirits Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind, no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

Sword and Plow.

There was once a count, so I've heard it said,
Who felt that his end drew near,
And he called his sons before his bed,
To part them his goods and gear.

He called for his plow, he called for his sword,
That gallant, good and brave,
They brought him both at their father's word,
And thus he his blessing gave

"My first born son, my pride and might,
Do thou my sword retain,
My castle on the lordly hight,
And all my broad domain."

"On thee, my well-loved younger boy,
My plow I here bestow,
A peaceful life shalt thou enjoy
In the quiet vale below."

Contented sank the sire to rest,
Now all was given away,
The sons held true his last behest,
E'en to his dying day.

Now tell us what came of the steel of flame,
Of the castle and its knight;
And tell us what came of the vale so tame,
And the humble peasant wight?

O, ask not of me what the end may be!
Ask of the country round!
The castle is dust, the sword is rust,
The hight is but desert ground.

But the vale spreads wide in the golden pride
Of the autumn sunlight now;
It teems and it ripens far and wide,
And the honor abides with the plow!

Our Shakespearian Gallery.—Shylock.

Shylock was a Jew, who kept a second-hand clothing store in Venice. By buying low and selling for all that he could get, doing his own cooking by a gas stove, having no washing done and never spending a cent, he had accumulated numerous ducats, which he wasn't averse to lending on collateral, providing the borrower hadn't any foolish scruples about paying twenty per cent. a month, or such a matter, for the accommodation—Antonio was a merchant of Venice who accumulated a good deal and owned numerous canal boats. He had a bosom friend named Bassanio, who was in love with a rich widow, Portia; but having lived a free life, driving fast horses, dining expensively at the St. Lawrence, very often he hadn't the ready cash wherewith to compete with his more wealthy rivals.

His father, tired of paying for his extravagances, refused him any more money. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard," the parent said. He did; he went to Ant-onio, being as willing to (Ant) owe nio as any body. Now Antonio had invested nearly all that he possessed in wheat, the market [illegible] low, but as soon as his canal boats arrived, he expected to sell at a great advance, and be fixed. But being anxious that his friend should have a stake, he agreed to borrow some ducats for him, if his credit would admit.

The next day, meeting Shylock on the Rialto, (which differs somewhat from the modern alto heard at concert saloons, not having so much rye in it,) he asked a loan of three thousand ducats.

Shylock bore no love to Antonio nor to any of his tribe in fact, on account of the scorn they had heaped upon him. He dissembled, however, and said he would like to accommodate, but hadn't the money ready—he would like to see his brother-in-law. He at length agreed to provide the three thousand ducats for three months, facetiously stipulating that Antonio should sign a bond (it was such a joke!) agreeing to forfeit a pound of flesh, (the Jew could hardly tell it from laughing,), to be cut off whenever he, the Jew decided, in case he failed to pay the money wh[illegible] due, "so help me gracious." Antonio, believing in the [illegible] of his wheat speculation, and having heard that his boats were well on the way from Chi[illegible], [illegible]pted the conditions and signed the bond.

B[illegible] the th[illegible] thousand ducats and [illegible] to lay siege to the heart (and purse) of the [illegible]. He was most assiduous in his [illegible]. He brought her peppermint drops, [illegible], whenever he came, went buggy [illegible] in the afternoons, and took her to the Ger[illegible] in the evening, to hear the [illegible] in the be[illegible] delirium of love the days [illegible] swiftly away.

[illegible] the accepted suitor of Portia, [illegible] his rivals were opulent one of [illegible] a silver mine in Colorado, and an[illegible] conductor on a good paying rail[illegible]. In the midst of his congratulations Bassanio rec[illegible] from Antonio, informing [illegible] were lost in a fearful gale [illegible] and he was reduced to beg[illegible] his bond to the Jew, and [illegible] to know what portion of his [illegible] would [illegible] from which to cut his [illegible]. He invited B[illegible] to be present [illegible] which would be held at the [illegible]. B[illegible] took the first train for V[illegible] with remorse.

T[illegible] of Shylock had not been improved any [illegible] away with a negro minstrel [illegible] Lorenzo, particularly as they carried away a stocking full of ducats, jewels of much value, and a lot of seven-thirty bonds.

He [illegible] the [illegible] of Antonio, positively refusing to receive any thing but the pound of flesh that he had forfeited. The case was brought before a Venetian Justice of the Peace for adjudication. B[illegible] had made a lucky hit at keno the night [illegible] and he offered to pay this Jew 6,000 ducats in place of 3,000, if he would retire from the meat business and let Antonio go. The Jew [illegible] nothing but a pound of Antonio's [illegible], cut thin, would satisfy him. He produced a butcher's knife in court, and began to whet it, [illegible] that he meant business.

The Justice had sent to Padua for a learned doctor to [illegible] the case, which was one of [illegible] especially to Antonio. The [illegible] doctor pleaded illness, and sent [illegible] more learned than himself, and [illegible], whom he recommended. He was [illegible] to the court, and on account of his very [illegible] was viewed with derision by a lot of "shyster" lawyers from the Police Court, who were there as spectators.

The case was a plain one; the bond was produced in court and spoke for itself. Antonio con[illegible] to it, and it was evident that he was about to leave the court room lighter by a pound. The [illegible] doctor told Shylock he must be merciful, but Shylock [illegible] he didn't have to." Then the learned doctor reminded him that "that the quality of mercy is not strained," (no strainer having been invented at that time for anything but new milk.) He said that Antonio must pay the forfeit if the Jew refused mercy—no power in Venice could alter the d[illegible]. Shylock in the very ecstacy of joy, said "A Daniel!" on account of the striking [illegible] he bore to Dan Rice. The learned d[illegible] told Antonio that he must bare his br[illegible]. Shylock flourished his butcher knife fiendishly, and prepared to carve him. He even had a balance in the pocket of his duster to weigh the flesh with, so complete were his arrangements for making the affair a success. He acknowledged that he had neglected to have a surgeon ready to stop the blood because it wasn't "so nominated in the bond."

Antonio had lost all his money, and having sense enough to know that life without ducats was unendurable, he calmly prepared for the funeral obsequies. Exposing a woolen undershirt he bade the Jew proceed with his carving. He was about to do so, when the learned doctor reminded him that the bond did not give him one jot of blood. If, in securing his pound of meat, he shed one drop of Christian claret, his lands and goods are "confiscated to the State." Then, too, if he cut less or more than a pound, his life as well as his second hand clothes, was forfeited. This was a poser.

Shylock seeing that Antonio wasn't his "meat," offered to take the principal, but was reminded by the learned doctor that as he had already refused it in open Court he must take the forfeiture or nothing. That was not all; Shylock's goods were divided on the spot, one-half going towards paying the national debt, and the other half going to Antonio, against whose life he had conspired; but Antonio, with great generosity, turned his half over to the Jew's daughter, who had married the negro minstrel, enabling him to retire from the profession with a handsome farewell benefit and set himself up at the patent medicine business.

The learned doctor turned out to be the charming widow Portia, who had assumed the part to save her lover's friend. Her success greatly emboldened the champions of "Women's Rights" in demanding that the learned professions should be thrown open to the softer sex. She was united to Bassanio, and lived long and happily, being often called upon by her neighbors to decide difficult points of law. Antonio got appointed Whisky Inspector on a small salary, and retired with a magnificent fortune in a few weeks.

Of Shylock only rare and faint glimpses have been obtained until he met with such a masterly reproduction in Edwin Booth.

Medical.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies. see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1868. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are; Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

HIRAM SMITH'S Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and hopeless cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months to which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eyes no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing in Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness:

E. D. MOORE, NATHANIEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE, G. R. WARD,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY, JOHN M. HOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER, ROB'T RAMSEY,
And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

 CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.

 CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.

 IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in need, to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, That is sapping with the insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.
